TUESDAY MARCH 6

THE REPUBLICANS IN TENNESSEE.

Colonel Walter P. Brownlow of Tennessee, son of the late Parson Brownlow, once governor of that state and United States senator, thinks that the republicans can carry Tennessee this year. The grounds for the faith that is in him is to use his own language, "that the republican party in that state is better organized this year than it ever has been since its formation in the state. We are thoroughly organized and ready to make a vigorous campaign. We are solidly united and have no local feuds to divide us; in other words we do not intend to let any discord arise, but expect to make the campaign of 1858 memorable in the history of our party in Tennessee. The democrats have already commenced a fight among themselves over their gubernatorial nomination, which bids fair to be one of the bitterest political family fights that have ever been known in the state."

When asked what other reason he had to believe that Tennessee would go republican, Colonel Brownlow produced some figures which stand for quite an argument in favor of his prediction. "In 1876—Tilden 133,116; Hayes, 89,556; democratic majority, 43,560. In 1880—Hancock, 130,109; Garfield, 107,677; democratic majority 22,432. In 1884—Cleveland, 133,253; Blaine, 124,073; democratic majority, 9,180. Analyzed out geographically the divisions of the vote in 1884 was: East Tennessee, Cleveland, 30,300; Blaine, 49,089. In Middle Tennessee, Cleveland, 62,398; Blaine, 38,083; West Tennessee, Cleveland, 40,000; Blaine, 80,944. "In the vote of 1880 Garfield received in the state 107,677 votes and Hancock 130,109 votes. In this contest the republicans showed a slant at home vote of 100,115. In the vote of 1884 the increase in the total vote of the state over the vote of 1880 was 19,400. Of this increase the republicans got 16,401, while the democratic increase was only 3,000 demonstrating that the republicans always claimed—that two-thirds of the vote at home vote was republican."

From these figures Colonel Brownlow observed that "the presidential contests mentioned the democrats have made a net gain in the state of 142 votes over their original votes in 1876, when they carried the state by 43,560 majority, while the republicans in the same years have made a net increase of 33,322. The same ratio of increase this year will give us the state by 9,000 majority."

Colonel Brownlow says that Senator Sherman is the favorite candidate in Tennessee for the reasons that he is friendly toward the south, and that as a democrat he has the confidence of the business men of the state. He claims to have paid considerable attention to the political sentiment in the south, and is forced to the conclusion that Tennessee, North Carolina, Virginia and West Virginia, are as doubtful states to the democracy as New York, Connecticut and Indiana, and with the same machinery applied to the doubtful southern states in party organization as is applied to the doubtful northern states, the former could be carried without doubt.

There is much in a bill, says the Madison Journal, introduced in the Ohio senate recently to change the form of fulfilling the death penalty from hanging to a fatal electric shock, to commend it to a favorable consideration of the lawmakers and of the people of that state. The bill is copied for the most part after the one now before the Albany legislature. It not only changes the mode of execution doing away with the gruesome gallows-tree, but provides for solitary confinement in the interval between the sentence and the execution. Moreover it abolishes all subsequent funeral orations and gush and delivers the bodies to the dissecting table. By this bill the morbidly sentimental will not have the opportunity to send in their ice-cream and cake, and newspaper men will be denied the pleasure of huzzing the brutal murderer. The chance of having his body lifted carved up by medical students will no doubt exert a wholesome influence in the mind of many a villain contemplating a capital crime. There are but a few wretches in this world who will not recoil from the idea of having even their lifeless bodies dismembered by the dissecting knife.

The Chicago Journal, speaking on the subject of republican clubs, emphasizes the fact that a political campaign can no more be effectively conducted without compact and vigorous organization than a battle can be successfully fought by an army that enters the field disorganized and without discipline. The clubs and leagues in the coming contest while subsidiary to the regular republican party organization, could be the aggressive and working force of the campaign, as were the Wide Awake and similar organizations in campaigns of the past. They would constitute a mighty army of young and middle-aged men, having companion, regiments and divisions in every county and district of the union, waging the general battle wherever the enemy can be found, and suspending hostilities only after the polls shall have been closed and the votes fully counted on the day of election in November.

A writer in the current North American Review uses rare or a curious argument to persuade workmen against striving for more opportunities for recreation on Sunday. He asserts that there is danger therein of losing the institution of one day of rest in seven altogether, and points to Russia, where 57.75 percent of manufacturing establishments of all kinds are operated every day in the week. In France a similar but less marked condition prevails, all of

IT LOOKS DARK.

A General Strike on Northwestern Roads More Probable.

LATEST MOVE OF THE ENGINEERS.

The Matter to Be Decided at a Conference to Be Held at Chicago Wednesday—Both Sides Hopeful of a Congressional Inquiry.

THE SITUATION UNCHANGED.

Chicago, March 6.—The uncertainty as to the action the locomotive engineers may take next week, considering the seriousness in railroad circles yesterday. A majority of the railroad officials feel confident that the strike will spread to a number of other roads and will be a general strike in condition to be prepared for a strike when it does come. Several of the managers and engineers on their respective lines during the day, but so far as concerns the engineers, they got no information that was worth anything. The men were rather close-mouthed, and in nearly every instance stated that they had no particular grievance, but they were unwilling to say what they would do if they were ordered by the officers of the Brotherhood to strike.

The leading engineers of the Northwestern system were summoned to appear before the chiefs and the grievance committees yesterday, and they were earnestly labored with to stand by the flag of the Brotherhood. Their refusal to strike, it is estimated, would do more than any thing else to defeat the Brotherhood in its fight with the Burlington. It is stated that the men finally consented to use their influence to induce the Northwestern engineers to strike, provided similar action was taken by the Milwaukee & St. Paul engineers, as the St. Paul Company also still adheres to the system of classifying its engineers. This was not to be done, and it was also decided that the Rock Island engineers should strike because of that company's alleged aid to the Burlington between Chicago and Kansas City and the Kansas City transfer yards. How soon the strike on these roads will be so far advanced could not be learned, but it was stated that it would take place shortly.

The chairman of the grievance committees returned home immediately upon the close of the conference, with instructions to immediately convene their several committees, for which arrangements were made before they left Chicago. They will report the situation, as shown by the conference of yesterday. Their committees will take action and the chairman will return to Chicago on Wednesday in connection with the Executive Committee of the Northwestern Division. What the decision will be is a matter of speculation entirely, since the chief of the Rock Island and the Milwaukee & St. Paul engineers indicated last night that a tie-up of the great Northwestern system would be the result. In the meantime it is reasonably certain that no other road will be moved.

General Manager Harris, of the Chicago, Burlington & Northern railway was in consultation with the chairman of the grievance committee of the road and with the engineers. Neither side would talk, but it was understood when the conference ended that some sort of compromise had been effected. The strike was declared off at 6:15 o'clock last evening. It was to have taken place at 7 o'clock.

When the telegraph reached headquarters announcing that Congressman White, of Indiana, had introduced a resolution in the House to inquire into the conduct of the engineers. Neither side would talk, but it was understood when the conference ended that some sort of compromise had been effected. The strike was declared off at 6:15 o'clock last evening. It was to have taken place at 7 o'clock.

President Perkins, of the company, refused to talk, but General Manager Harris, of the Chicago, Burlington & Northern road, who sat near by, said that the proposition to send a Congressional committee here meant a delay in settling the strike and a great injury to the strikers.

Yesterday freight was received for all points out of the Mississippi and to-day it will be received for points up to the Missouri.

Mr. Sargent, chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, said yesterday: "Mr. Arthur says that he would expect the Brotherhood men who are working on the Burlington if they did not leave the places of the Knights of Labor strikers which they had taken. Mr. Arthur has no such power as the chief of the Brotherhood to request them to quit, and there his power ends. The law of the order as created by the Brotherhood's convention gives Mr. Arthur no power to expel men for such cause. He has done all he can in the reading matter, and anyhow there are only thirty-five engineers and five firemen belonging to the Brotherhood working on the Burlington and these few can not be held responsible for the failure of the strike."

The Illinois Railway Commissioners were at the same hotel yesterday in which the strikers met, but no complaints had been filed before them. General Harris was disposed to say what the commission could do to it was made, as he did not wish to anticipate a contingency that might arise and which the commission might be called upon to investigate into the matter of the road hiring incompetent men, as the commission had authority to investigate any action in any way detrimental to the public interest.

In Iowa the Railway Commissioners continued yesterday to investigate the competency of the men employed as engineers by the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Company. Out of fifteen of the engineers summoned before Commissioner Day at Creston last week five men admitted that they were not competent passenger engineers. Not one had ever run an engine. They had been firemen, conductors and brakemen until placed on engines at the beginning of the strike.

A dispatch to the strikers from Hannibal, Mo., yesterday said that six engines at that point had been turned back to repair. Five engines, it was reported, had run into Creston with crews already burned out.

The strikers also claimed that of the ten men sent from Chicago to Burlington yesterday seven were rejected by General Manager Merrill and Superintendent Brown for incompetency, and the Brotherhood committee persuaded the other three men to go to work. It was also reported that six crews had quit the company at Galveston and four at Aurora.

"We feel justified in affirming to-day," said Passenger Agent Norton, "that the backbone of the strike is shaky. The Brotherhood is now running all the passenger trains necessary to accommodate business. Freight business on the road has almost assumed its normal condition."

Quarantine on the Great Lakes for the night of the Chicago, Burlington & Northern here to accept freight in carloads and less than carloads at all stations on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy and its branches. This is accompanied by the information that the members of the Brotherhood employed on the Chicago, Burlington & Northern have arrived at an agreement with the managers and will not strike.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—In the House yesterday Mr. White (Ind.) introduced the following preamble and resolution, which was referred to the Committee on Commerce.

WHEREAS, There has been inaugurated a great strike on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railway, which, if not quickly checked, will result in widespread destruction and suffering, not only to those immediately engaged in it, but to others who are not directly connected therewith, yet, nevertheless, are greatly affected by the prolongation and continuance of said strike.

Resolved, That a special committee of five members be appointed by the Speaker to proceed at once to Chicago and there investigate the condition of affairs in relation to said strike and that they be empowered and requested to act as mediators between the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company and Chief Arthur and bring about a settlement of the pending troubles of the railway which will be amicable and agreeable to both parties to the strike with the least delay.

Democrat, Mich., March 5.—The Detroit Division of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers have sent $1,500 to the Burlington strikers at Chicago. They have raised $1,700 more, which will be increased to $5,000 and be remitted by Tuesday.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—In the House yesterday discussion of the proposed amendment of the National Labor Relations Act, which would prohibit any form of coercion, threats, property or other valuable thing for procuring or aiding the nomination or election of any person to office; and also makes it unlawful for any labor organization to attempt in any manner to influence or control the action of employees in casting their votes at primary election or election. Violation of the act is made a misdemeanor punishable by a fine not exceeding $100 or by thirty days imprisonment.

House Bill No. 374, the Maximum Tariff bill, was the special order for the afternoon. A general discussion of its provisions and the policy of enacting such a measure was had, but no test vote was reached. Mr. Custer, of Jasper, opposed the bill, because, as he explained, it divided the roads into two classes, those that would close roads to charge 10 and 20 per cent more than first-class. Two-fifths of his constituents live on lines of second and third-class roads, and the bill would be a direct attack against them. Mr. Cummings criticized the bill in that it gave special advantages to coal and lumber as compared with other commodities. There is but little doubt that it will pass the House by a large majority.

A MONSTER CANNON. The Big Steel Gun Announced Perfectly and Ready to be Fired.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 6.—The big steel gun was taken from the manufacturing furnace at the Pittsburgh Steel Casting Company's works yesterday morning and found to be all right. The finishing touches will now be put on, and the gun shipped to Washington for the final tests on March 20. Superintendent Hunsaker stated that if the gun is a success and will offer to make a steel gun in one casting for the Government the same size and of better quality than the great English 11-inch built up gun for $175,000. The cost of the English gun was $225,000.

Heavy Losses by Fire. New York, March 6.—The fire losses in the United States and Canada during February, computed from the records of the New York Daily Commercial Bulletin, reach the enormous aggregate of $11,217,500, or over $1,000,000 above the average February loss for thirteen years. There were twenty-one fires of over $100,000 loss each.

Accused His Wife. PALMYRA, Wis., March 6.—Before dying of a bullet wound in the chest, a man shot his wife near here Monday, March 5, and then shot himself. The woman, who was arrested, alleged that her husband had assaulted her and that she had shot him in self-defense. The husband is said to be involved in the tragedy.

An Assurance Company Falls. LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 6.—The Presbyterian Mutual Assurance fund made an assignment yesterday. The assets in the monetary fund were $24,000. The liabilities are between $50,000 and $60,000. The failure was precipitated by several suits which were recently brought against the company.

A Robber's Big Hunt. COLEBURN, Tex., March 6.—J. B. Snyder was arrested here Monday for opening United States mails. He had drafted amounting to $14,073 and money orders, and is believed to be the leader of the gang that have been robbing Texas post-offices all winter.

The Churches and Sunday Newspapers. LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 6.—At the weekly meeting of the Ministerial Association in this city yesterday a resolution was adopted condemning Sunday newspapers and pleading the members not to allow their church notices to appear in them.

A Railroad Heavily Mortgaged. DETROIT, Mich., March 6.—A first mortgage of $5,000,000 from the Eastern railroad to the New York Trust Company was filed here Monday, payment secured by the Manitoba Company. Improvements will be made on cars.
